EQUITY BY DESIGN IN CLINICAL RESEARCH: A SIX-PART COURSE

OVERVIEW FACULTY ACCREDITATION TAKE COURSE ←

Welcome to EQUITY BY DESIGN IN CLINICAL RESEARCH: A SIX-PART COURSE, a training course communicating an understanding of, and training on best practices for, diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) of underrepresented populations in clinical trials. The course was originally designed to aid cancer centers in improving their ability to enroll underrepresented participants in clinical research and to develop mechanisms for ongoing sustainability of DEI in clinical research. However, while some of the examples used to illustrate DEI concepts in the course are cancer-specific, the preponderance of course instruction is applicable to clinical research across health areas. Ethical and regulatory considerations are included, and practical guidance for commitment, communication, partnership, and conduct is emphasized.
